1. COURSE OBJECTIVES:

Study of Political Science is not complete without the sufficient knowledge of Political Ideologies. Proper understanding of Political Science seriously calls for an intense study of Political Ideologies. Living Political Ideologies influence the formulation of party politics, foreign policy and policy programs around the world. There are different forms of political ideologies and they have different characteristics. No government or regime—democratic or undemocratic—functions without certain political ideology. It is important for students to understand how political ideology functions in society. Understanding political ideologies enables students to fathom the nature of political institutions. The objective of this course is to introduce the students to various important political ideologies. This course is designed to acquaint students with the political ideologies prevailing around the world. It is also to equip students to be able to engage in diverse political discourses. Further, this course will enable students to be well-versed in contemporary political issues and challenges.

2. TEACHING METHODOLOGY:

National Law University and Judicial Academy, Assam has framed its own teaching methodology to train its students in learning and understanding of political aspects and issues. The teaching methodology is not just confined to a traditional lecture method but a participatory teaching method with an aim to discuss on various current political aspects. The pedagogy followed is the combination of lectures and intense discussions in the class. This course requires students to engage in seminars or group discussions for which topics and themes will be assigned well in advance. Assignments will be also assigned to the students as a part of the course. The students are also encouraged to do independent research on their respective assignments. Every student is required to present their topics and clear their doubts through discussion.

3. EXPECTED OUTCOMES OF THE COURSE:

On completion of the course, the students are expected to understand the nuances of each module and thereby they shall be in a position to undertake political issues both in national and international levels with confidence. The course will also help students to have a clear understanding of the nature and functioning of various political ideologies around the world. This course will educate students about how various political ideologies function among the nations. All in all, this course will enable students to be at home with the essence of modern political ideologies in the world.
