

VISION STATEMENT OF

India, the largest democracy of the world, is also home to the largest number of children in the world. 39% of India's 1.21 billion strong population is constituted of its children. Although the Indian government has enacted several laws and undertaken other socio- economic measures for the cause of its children, a lot still remains to be done, more so in the north eastern parts of its territory. In the light of the same, the CCR wish to:

1. Create a centre for excellence on child rights
2. To conduct doctrinal and empirical research with regard to children's rights.
3. Ensure protection of the rights of children, with a focus on social justice and equity.
4. Work for the capacity development of stakeholders and duty bearers engaged with the implementation of child rights

POLICY OF CENTRE FOR CHILD RIGHTS

National Law University and Judicial Academy, Assam (NLUJAA) Centre for Child Rights (CCR) has been established in 2015 to create a centre for excellence on child rights. The aim of CCR is to conduct doctrinal and empirical research with regard to children's rights. CCR is committed to ensure protection of the rights of children with a focus on social justice and equity. It also strive to work for the capacity development of stakeholders and duty bearers engaged with the implementation of child rights.
